MARK CONNELLY, Ph.D.:

Grants:

NIAMS Connelly (PI) 09/01/11 – 08/30/15

WebSMART: Efficacy of web-based pain self-management for adolescents with JIA
This project is a multi-site randomized controlled trial of a web-based pain self-management program for children with pain associated with Juvenile Idiopathic Arthritis.

Role: PI

Pfizer Schurman (PI) 08/01/11 – 07/31/10

Improving pain prevention strategies during childhood immunization: A quality improvement project linked to ongoing professional development through a project-based quality improvement curriculum

This project involves use of formal quality improvement methodology to identify barriers and solutions to use of pain prevention strategies during routine childhood immunizations.

Role: Co-I

Mayday Foundation Connelly and Stinson (Co-PIs) 08/01/08 – 12/31/10

Ask me where it hurts: Developing a standardized approach to the assessment of pain in pediatric rheumatology

This project involved an evaluation of the feasibility and utility of a standardized pain self- and parent-report assessment done on different mediums (computer, handheld, and paper) in rheumatology practices at 5 sites (4 US sites, 1 Canadian site).

Role: Co-PI
